

Syllabus for COMM 1, Public Speaking

Course Information

Semester & Year: Fall 2021

Course ID & Section #: COMM 1 – V2418

Instructor's name: Professor Lisa Sayles

Day/Time or *Online: This course is delivered and taught 100% online with three synchronous video sessions – there are no class meetings on campus. Students will deliver the first three speeches via Zoom (synchronous video conferencing) in weeks 3, 8, and 12. In order to reduce the time spent on Zoom you will sign up for smaller time frames in presentation groups. Students will have the choice of delivering their speeches from 8:00a.m. - 10:30a.m., 3:00p.m.- 5:30p.m. OR 7:00p.m.- 9:30p.m. on Fridays in week 3 (9/10), week 8(10/15) & week 12(11/12). Students MUST be available for one of these time frames in weeks 3, 8 and 12. The fourth speech and all other activities will take place online asynchronously. In the event of a power outage that interferes with the delivery of one or more of the first three speeches the speech delivery day will default to the next Friday at the same times.

Location or *Online: Online

Number of units: 3

Instructor Contact Information

Office hours: Wednesdays 4:00pm - 5:00pm on Zoom or by appointment. This office hour is available to all my courses. If this day/time does not work for your schedule or you would like a private meeting please email for an appointment. To access my Zoom room please use the link on the course home page in Canvas.

Phone number: 707-476-4313 (Will not likely be available at this number most of fall term depending on COVID-19)

Email address: lisa-sayles@redwoods.edu and Canvas Inbox.

Catalog Description

Students will learn theories and techniques of public speaking, focusing on audience analysis, logical organization, and ethical speaking practices. Students will engage in critical analysis and research of socially significant issues. They will outline and deliver informative and persuasive speeches, based on their research.

Course Student Learning Outcomes

1. Research, construct and deliver effective informative and persuasive speeches using accepted classical and rhetorical practices, models and theories of communication.
2. Critically analyze oral communication, both as speakers and listeners.
3. Demonstrate ethical responsibilities in the communication process, including issues such as diversity, credibility, authority, and academic honesty.

Required Materials

Textbook: This course uses free, open education resources – there is no textbook to purchase. We will primarily use Exploring Public Speaking, 4th Edition by Barbara B. Tucker. No ISBN. A link to readings is provided in the Canvas modules.

Other requirements: High speed internet, relatively modern computer, and webcam or other device that creates video with audio. 1 package WHITE 4 x 6 notecards for speaking notes. See Technology requirements and skills below.

Accessibility

Students will have access to online course materials that comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA), Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and College of the Redwoods policies. Students who discover access issues with this class should contact the instructor.

College of the Redwoods is also committed to making reasonable accommodations for qualified students with disabilities. If you have a disability or believe you might benefit from disability-related services and accommodations, please contact your instructor or Disability Services and Programs for Students (DSPS). Students may make requests for alternative media by contacting DSPS based on their campus location:

- Eureka: 707-476-4280, student services building, 1st floor
- Del Norte: 707-465-2324, main building near library
- Klamath-Trinity: 530-625-4821 Ext 103

During COVID19, approved accommodations for distance education classes will be emailed to the instructor by DSPS. In the case of face to face instruction, please present your written accommodation request to your instructor at least one week before the first test so that necessary arrangements can be made. Last-minute arrangements or post-test adjustments cannot usually be accommodated.

Student Commitment

The class will require at least as much time as you dedicate to a traditional face-to-face class. California defines college semester credit hours in Carnegie units which is a one to two ratio between in-class time and homework. For example, a typical 3 credit hour class during a regular academic term will require an additional 6 hours of homework for a total of about 9 hours per week. If you are taking a total of 12 credits, you can expect to spend 36 hours a week on your college classes, which is why 12 credits is considered full time. I strongly suggest that you create a schedule that takes into account total required hours per week for your courses. You will need to carefully engage with online lectures and lessons, read textbook chapters, participate in online discussions, complete weekly quizzes, write application papers, create video assignments, and present the first three speeches on Zoom. Conscientiousness, attention to details, and skills in reading and writing are critical for success.

Instructor Commitment & Regular Effective Contact

I access this class on Canvas regularly and initiate online contact with students using weekly announcements, lectures and lesson materials, a Q & A forum, discussion forum comments, feedback on assignments, and by email, and/or the video conference tool. I read every discussion forum post; although these are your discussions so much of the content of the discussion should take place between students. I dedicate as much or more time to this class compared to a traditional, face-to-face class.

Technology skills

Students should be able to navigate the course learning management system (website) and external websites, open and download files, use a word processor with either Microsoft Word (.docx) or compatible software, record and upload video files, and be able to convert files to rich text format (.rtf) or portable document format (.pdf) and submit files to the class website. It is the student's responsibility to meet the technological demands of the course.

Technology requirements

- Computer – A reasonably current computer is needed for this class. A mobile device with the Canvas App can be used for some functions, but you should not rely on a mobile device to complete all of the course requirements. A computer is required to successfully complete this course.
- Other hardware - A webcam or other device that creates videos and audio is required in order to participate fully in all of the course activities or assessments.

- Internet Access - A reliable, high-speed broadband connection is needed for this course. Have a back-up plan for internet access, like a coffee shop or library.

Software

- Canvas - This course uses an online Learning Management System (LMS) called Canvas, which is provided by the college. To get to the class you will need to log in to: <https://redwoods.instructure.com>. Your login name will be your first initial, last name, last three digits of your student I.D number (sgarcis567), your password is your eight digit date of birth (06031996). Once you have logged in select "COMM 1 – V2418."
- Canvas App - If you have a smart phone or a tablet there is a free Canvas app through the Apple store or an app available at this link for Android devices. However, DO NOT rely on a mobile device and the Canvas App to complete all of the course requirements.
- Microsoft Word compatible software - In this course you will need to open and/or create Microsoft Word compatible documents. All students at CR have access to a free Office 365 license (includes Word, Excel, PowerPoint and more) with a valid CR email. There are also other free software options available such as Google Docs or LibreOffice (If you use Pages for Mac, you will need to export your files to Word or PDF formats).
- Adobe Acrobat Reader – Adobe Acrobat Reader – A free Adobe Acrobat PDF Reader is available which will allow you to open and read PDF files.
- Zoom Account – Zoom video conferencing will be used to conduct office hours. Click here to sign up for a Free Basic Zoom Account. Your free account comes with excellent online support, including 24/7 free live chat help.
- Canvas Studio – Canvas studio is a media tool that allows students and instructors to upload, create, edit, manage, share and discuss audio and video files. We will use this video tool for some class discussions, the practice speeches and the final commemorative speech assignment.
  - Canvas Studio uses a video and screen recording tool called Screencast-O-Matic which makes it easy to record both yourself and slides (or anything on your desktop) at the same time.
  - If you are a Mac user and you have trouble with the screen recording, try going into your Security & Privacy section under "Settings" and click the "Studio Recorder" button. PC users will need to give similar permissions to run Studio.

Canvas & CR Technology support

As an instructor, I am available to assist you with course content and assignments, but my role does not include technical support. However, you should let me know if you are having technical difficulties that affect your participation in the course so that I know how to best support you, and if needed work out a short-term accommodation.

Before contacting Technical Support you might visit the Online Support Page. For password issues with Canvas, Web Advisor or your mycr.redwoods.edu email, contact Technical Support or call 707-476-4160 or 800-641-0400 ext. 4160 between 8:00 A.M. and 4:00 P.M., Monday through Friday.

- Canvas online orientation workshop

Setting Your Preferred Name in Canvas

Students have the ability to have an alternate first name and pronouns to appear in Canvas. Contact Admissions & Records to request a change to your preferred first name and pronoun. Your Preferred Name will only be listed in Canvas. It does not change your legal name in our records. See the Student Information Update form.

Evaluation & Grading Policy

Your work is assessed according to how well it meets class outcomes and objectives, fulfills requirements, meets assignment rubrics, and reflects the academic skills expected of college students. It is your responsibility to understand why you have achieved a certain grade and what steps you can take to maintain or improve your grade. Canvas has a feature called “What If” Grades that allows students to see how future assignment grades will impact their overall course grade. Please feel free to consult with me about your grades. Please review the assignment and the grading rubric in order to clearly explain any concerns. Please plan to schedule adequate time to ensure that you are able to complete all assignments.

The following percentage system will be used to determine the final course grade:

Assignment/ Assessment	Points	% of Grade	Grading Scale A = 93% - 100% A- = 90% - 92% B+ = 87% - 89% B = 83% - 86% B- = 80% - 82% C+ = 77% - 79% C = 70% - 76% D = 60% - 69% F = < 59

Total:	960	= 100%

Student feedback policy

Students can generally expect assignment feedback and scores posted to the grade book within 10 days after the submission deadline. If feedback and scores are not posted to the grade book tool within 10 days after the submission deadline, I will notify students about when they can expect the scores or feedback to be posted.

Late Policy

You will need to turn all assignments in on time according to the due dates listed in the syllabus schedule and modules on Canvas in order for the assignment to be eligible for full points.

- There will be no late work accepted for time-sensitive, and/or peer dependent assignments such as the toolbox discussions or peer feedback on practice speeches.
- No make-up opportunities will be available for speech delivery with the exception of documented medical emergencies or unforeseen life circumstances. Not waking up on time or not feeling ready to deliver a speech does not count as a situation beyond your control.

- Please note that there is no guarantee that if you miss delivering your speech that you will be able to make it up. There is not enough time available for the entire class to make up missed speeches.
- For the remaining assignments late work will be accepted up to 48 hours after a due date, with a 10% grade reduction the first day, and a 20% grade reduction the second day.
- The only exception to the late work policy is a major medical emergency or traumatic life event. You will need to scan and email verification, such as a copy of the doctor's note.
- Please see the extra credit assignment for the option available to make up points.

Communication With Instructor

Email is usually the best way to get a hold of me. Please use Canvas email for personal student-teacher communication. To access the email system in Canvas click on the "Inbox" link on the left dark grey bar to bring up your Canvas email. Clicking on the person icon in the "To:" address bar will allow you to choose the course, student or teacher, and then the person that you would like to email. Click on COMM 1, teacher, and choose my name, Lisa Sayles. Include a message title, type a message in the message area, sign your name, and click send to send your message. You may also email me through the CR email system at Lisa-Sayles@Redwoods.edu. When using this email please clearly identify the class that you are in and include your full name. I will access the class website regularly and respond to posted questions and email messages within 48 hours (and usually much sooner) during regular business days. If you do not hear back from me before this time frame please initiate contact again.

There are other ways to communicate with me in our course, including a general Q & A discussion area, assignment comments, video conferences, and phone (if desired). You are welcome to reply with a comment or add questions on announcements. General questions (analogous to raising a hand in class) should be posted in the "Q & A" discussion forum. There is a link available to the Q & A at the end of each module.

Once we are fully back on campus you will be able to reach me on my office phone at 707-476-4313, or stop by my office in the Humanities building, room 108K, if you find yourself near the Eureka campus (not during COVID). In the meantime please feel free to set up a time to communicate through Zoom, a video conference tool. Please keep in mind that I am primarily available Monday – Friday, so plan accordingly.

COMM 1: Public Speaking

General Information & Course Policies

“All the great speakers were bad speakers at first.”
--Ralph Waldo Emerson

Course Overview

This course will focus on speech preparation and delivery skills. Some of the topics that will be studied include topic and purpose selection, research and organization of materials, language choices, audience analysis, listening skills, and strategies and ethics of persuasion. You will develop skills in topic research, constructing and outlining speeches, delivering traditional informative and persuasive speeches, and using visual aids. The main goal of this class is to give you an understanding of the processes involved in public speaking and a chance to develop your skills through the practical application of this understanding.

Remember that this course is an introduction to public speaking, which means that you are not expected to have had any public speaking experience before taking the class. Even the thought of public speaking is anxiety producing for most people; therefore we will address some of the most effective ways to manage your anxiety. Keep in mind that it is much worse from the inside looking out than from the outside looking in. The audience will rarely be able to detect your nervousness to the degree that you feel it. Taking a public speaking class is a great way to increase your confidence and preparedness in public speaking situations. Have fun with the process!

Textbook & Readings

Communication Guidelines

Effective communication is essentially about showing respect for both yourself and the other person. Speech topics will include controversial topics. It is okay not to agree with every comment or argument that is made in the class, either by your peers or myself. However, it is expected that you will be respectful of those with different opinions and perspectives than your own. This class requires that students demonstrate mutual respect in their interactions.

Most people experience a significant amount of anxiety related to public speaking. As an academic community we share a mutual responsibility to create and maintain a supportive classroom environment where students feel safe to speak out and apply new communication skills. Listen attentively when others are speaking, ask questions, and speak up when you have something to add to the discussion. Avoid creating “noise” or distractions for others. Please make sure you watch the “Netiquette” video in the introduction module so that you are clear on my expectations regarding your online communication.

Online Office Hours

I will be available face-to-face conference sessions using Zoom during office hours. I am happy to set up other times to talk with you on the phone, or using the Zoom conference tool if these days and times don't work for you. If you would like to speak on the phone please email me to set up a day and time.

Personal Technological Devices

During the Zoom meetings DO NOT answer your phone or engage in texting, gaming, or web surfing during class time (unless instructed to do so). If you need to keep in touch with someone in an emergency, please make sure to silence (not vibrate) your device. Make sure that your phone or devices are silenced during speeches.

Confirm your presence in the online classroom

Log in to the website and post a video introduction to the "Student Introductions/Attendance" Discussion forum no later than 11:59 pm on Wednesday, 8/25/21 to confirm your presence in the online classroom. Post both an initial introduction and reply to another student's post according to the directions. Doing so will confirm your enrollment in the course and avoid your being dropped as a "no show." This first post is designed to get you familiar with the video tool and also get you started on content for your first speech.

Participation/Drop/Withdrawal

Student-initiated withdrawal may occur through the second week of class with nothing recorded on the student transcripts and from week's 2-10 with a recorded W (withdrawal). Administrative procedure (AP) 5075 allows instructors to withdraw students from class for non-participation through the 10th week of class. Participation means that you are actively completing assignments, not just logging in to Canvas. Non-participation for two weeks of assignments may result in involuntary withdrawal. No course withdrawal is allowed after the 10th week of class.

Reading

Reading should be completed by the date on which it is listed on the schedule in the syllabus. Lessons and class activities are based upon the expectation that you have done the reading are familiar with the material.

Written Work

All papers should be typed, one and a half or double-spaced; Times New Roman or Arial; 12-point font; 1" margins, and formatted using APA style guidelines. All written work requiring sources outside the text must be cited properly using in-text and end-of-text citations. The CR library site offers citation resources and there are resource librarians who will answer questions in person, by phone or email. The Purdue Online Writing Lab is also an excellent resource. Please be sure to carefully edit all papers for spelling, grammar, punctuation and organization. Mechanical aspects of writing will be taken into account for grading purposes. Online tutoring is available via the NetTutor link in Canvas.

Plagiarism

Do not copy lesson or lecture notes, information from the textbook, other student's work, or cut and paste from a website and claim it as your own. Learn from others, but your contributions in the discussion forum, the activities, assignments, and exams must be your own work. If you incorporate the work of others into your writing, you need to cite and credit the work of others. Students that plagiarize information will at minimum will receive a failing grade on the plagiarized assignment, will be turned in to the dean, and will be at risk of failing the course. I will consider a first incident of plagiarism a learning opportunity, but any incident(s) after that will be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer and the Humanities division dean.

Academic dishonesty

In the academic community, the high value placed on truth implies a corresponding intolerance of scholastic dishonesty. In cases involving academic dishonesty, determination of the grade and of the student's status in the course is left primarily to the discretion of the faculty member. In such cases, where the instructor determines that a student has demonstrated academic dishonesty, the student may receive a failing grade for the assignment and/or exam and may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website. Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the College Catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.

Disruptive behavior

Student behavior or speech that disrupts the instructional setting will not be tolerated. Disruptive conduct may include, but is not limited to: unwarranted interruptions; failure to adhere to instructor's directions; vulgar or obscene language; slurs or other forms of intimidation; and physically or verbally abusive behavior. In such cases where the instructor determines that a student has disrupted the educational process, a disruptive student may be temporarily removed from class. In addition, the student may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website. Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the College Catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.

Language/content disclaimer:

During this class I may show film clips that contain some profanity, violence, and/or suggested sexual content. These films will be used to offer practical application of concepts, theories or ideas discussed in class and textbook.

Note: I reserve the right to establish additional policies, as I deem necessary to provide you with the best learning environment possible.

COMM 1: Public Speaking Assessments

Assessments

Grades are part of teaching and learning process. All major assignments are designed to help you integrate knowledge gained from this course. The assignments are important not only for learning assessment to take place, but also to reinforce long-term retention and understanding of human communication processes and skills.

Zoom Audience Participation & Feedback Points

You will sign up to deliver your first three speeches via Zoom and with a smaller sub-set of students. The balance of class activities and the final speech will take place online. When you sign up to deliver your speech, you are also signing up to be an audience member for the other students in your presentation group. You will be providing peer feedback on your classmate's speeches, which serves as an important learning instrument for both speakers and audience members. You should take notes on a minimum of five speeches. As an audience member you will complete peer feedback on five student's presentations and submit your feedback in Canvas by the due date on the schedule.

Delivering the three extemporaneous speeches in a live context is a course curriculum requirement for this course so these sessions are mandatory in order to pass the course. In the rare situation where a student has a verifiable emergency and is unable to attend and deliver the first three extemporaneous speeches, they may be delivered as late speeches as time allows. Sleeping in or not feeling prepared for your speech do not constitute an emergency.

Online Participation

Plan to use the Canvas email system for the duration of this course. It is critically important that you check your email account regularly and that you log in a minimum of two times a week while taking this partially online class. You can set up Canvas to copy your CR or personal email accounts. To find out more about setting up your Canvas email account see the Canvas Guide on Adding Contact Methods for Students. In addition, you should plan to access our course and participate in the online environment in Canvas several times per week.

Because online and in-class participation is critical to your success in this class, participation is mandatory.

Note: I have the ability to drop you from the class up until the tenth week of classes if I determine that you are an “inactive” student due to non-participation online or any absences during in-class meetings.

Online Class Lessons

Online class lessons will be delivered primarily in the form of audio or video lectures, text-based pages with videos, images, Power Point slides, etc. It is expected that you will have read the assigned textbook chapter prior to the lesson. Most online lessons will be delivered using a program called SoftChalk which will include embedded quizzes and activities that are included in the lesson quiz grading category.

Be sure to answer all of the lesson quiz questions and click “Finish” at the end of the lesson to submit your quiz score. If you don’t click Finish, then your lesson attempt will be incomplete and will not be calculated for your grade. After clicking Finish, you should see the score screen. You can click Score Receipt to email yourself a receipt with your score or print a certificate with your score. You will have unlimited attempts on lesson quizzes.

General Guidelines for Speeches

Always be sure to review the assignment for speaking assignments to ensure that you have met all the requirements before submitting an outline and/or delivering your speech. Signing up for a speech delivery date also means that you are signing up to be an audience member for the presentation group during the allotted timeframe. It is important that you conform to the time limit given for a particular speech assignment. Time limits are factored into the speech grade. To make sure that your speech conforms to the specified time limit, you should practice your speech, out loud and standing up, and time it before delivering to the class for a grade.

You will sign up to deliver your first three speeches during one of the time frames set aside for each round of speeches. On the day of your speech you will need to log in to Zoom on time (which means a little early) through our course. If you fail to log in on time you may not be able to deliver your speech at all. Please do not interrupt speeches in session. If you have an emergency, or other valid excuse (hospitalization, etc.) you will be given a make-up opportunity without penalty, but this should be negotiated prior to your assigned speech day if possible. If you do not speak on your assigned day, you may be allowed to deliver the speech at a later time on a first come, first serve basis, but only with a full grade reduction and only at instructor discretion.

Guidelines for Online Speeches

- Sign up for a free Free Basic Zoom Account and practice using the technology even if it just you, but try to practice with a friend or family on Zoom.
- Position the video camera at eye level so that you are looking directly at camera and not up or down at it.
- Stand up during your speech - stand back from the camera so that that the audience sees you from the waist up.
- Minimize background clutter - select a spot that will not have a distracting background or use a blanket/sheet/board or other item to cover distracting elements.
- Dress to look professional during your speeches (see dress code).

Dress Code for Speeches

All speakers are expected to dress professionally. Usually this means avoiding shorts, jeans, t-shirts, tank tops, sweatpants, sweatshirts, flip-flops, athletic shoes, or hats. Avoid heavy coats or outdoor wear and remove hats or other objects that obscure your eyes. Your presentation of yourself contributes to your credibility and confidence as a speaker and should support your message, rather than detract from it.

Speech 1 - Speech of Self-Introduction

This 3-4 minute speech is designed to serve as an ice-breaking speech for you and your audience. The speech will inform your classmates about a personal accomplishment, goal, value, belief or some other significant aspect of your life and personality. This speech should allow the audience to get some feeling for who you are and what you are about. 75 possible points

Speech 2 - Informative Speech

This 5-7 minute speech requires that you inform your classmates about a topic that is relevant or interesting to them. You will provide the audience with new information that is appropriate and worthy of a college classroom. Typically, the informative speech discusses some object, concept, process, or event. Examples of topics that would fit this assignment include teaching the class how to make candles, explaining how to survive if stranded in the wilderness, or discussing the marriage rituals of the Mosuo (one of the last matriarchal societies in the world). An outline and presentation aid is required. 125 possible points

Speech 3 - Persuasive Speech

In this 8-10 minute speech you will persuade you're classmates to adopt a particular course of action related to an issue that is of some importance to you and your audience and is connected in some way to the informative topic. This persuasive speech will be guided by a question (proposition) of policy. Examples of this type of speech include trying to persuade the audience to vote for a political candidate or proposition, to enact a policy of mandatory public service in America, or to institute a system of pass/fail grading in all classes at College of the Redwoods. An outline and presentation aid is required. 150 possible points

Speech 4 - Commemorative Speech

This 3-4 minute speech will pay tribute to someone or something that has had an impact on your life. This could include a person, a group of people, an institution, or an idea. The subject may be historical or contemporary, famous or obscure. This speech will focus on use of language and delivery style. This speech will be delivered from manuscript. Students may propose to deliver an alternative special occasion speech if there will be an immediate need for the speech, such as a toast at a wedding, etc. 100 possible points for the speech + 25 audience feedback points.

Outlines and manuscript

You will be required to submit a typed, full-sentence formal, full-sentence outline on Canvas for the second and third speeches. Outlines must follow the correct format, structure, and organization patterns explained in the text, handouts, and in class. I will not accept emailed outlines – they must be uploaded to the outline assignment area. For your fourth speech, you will submit a manuscript prior to delivering the manuscript speech. Manuscripts must follow the guidelines for the assignment. I will check for plagiarism and make sure that your speech matches your proposal/approval.

Speech Self-Assessments

An important part of improving your skills as a speaker is to self-assess and set goals for improvement. The first three speeches will be videotaped. You will be asked to provide self-assessments of your first two speeches. These will require self-reflection, analysis, and goal-setting skills. A link to your recorded Zoom session video will be provided. By being in this this section you are giving your consent for your speeches to be recorded. These recordings will include all the presenters who delivered their speeches during the same smaller group presentation session. Speech self-assessments are due online on the date indicated in the schedule.

Reading Quizzes

The first attempt for each reading quiz is due on Tuesdays prior to the lesson, as indicated in the schedule, and is intended to give students a base knowledge of the course content prior to other learning activities. Engaging with the reading materials will significantly increase the effectiveness and productivity of your time. You will be able to take each quiz up to maximum of three times and your highest score will be recorded. Once you have used one attempt prior to the due date, you may continue to use any remaining quiz attempts until the Sunday prior to finals week and the quiz will be considered on-time even though Canvas marks subsequent attempts as late in the Canvas system.

You are allowed to use your text, however, you will only have 12 minutes for each attempt and each attempt will pull from a different pool of questions. There will be 10 graded quizzes and I will use your 9 best quiz scores for your quiz grade. Quizzes may contain multiple choice, matching, and true/false questions. Each quiz will be worth 10 points for a total of 90 possible points.

Speech Toolbox Activities

You will participate in written and video skill building activities where you will give and receive support for the speech building and delivery process. This will include short speeches and practice speeches. Discussion activities may include brainstorming speech topics, providing feedback on speech outlines, applying lesson concepts specific to upcoming speeches, etc.

Suggested, but Optional Peer Only Discussions

There will be suggested, but optional peer only discussion areas available to support peer interaction and engagement. Prompts for possible discussion are provided specific to the upcoming speeches, but you are welcome to use these discussions in whatever way best meets your speech building needs. Some students use this space to organize peer practice speech sessions on Zoom, others use it for peer editing/feedback or as a study group, and others might be interested in just discussing their thoughts and process. These peer discussion areas are not graded and will not be monitored by the instructor. Students who are not interested in participating are not obligated to do so.

Extra Credit

Extra Quiz - Start the class with extra credit points! Take Canvas quiz on the Virtual Text Chapter 2 on the Origins of public speaking by the date indicated on the schedule, and the points that you earn will be added to your total points at the end of the term. You will have one quiz attempt and your quiz score will be used for the extra credit points.
