Catalog Description

Introduction to environmental issues from a scientific perspective, focusing on physical, chemical, and biological processes within the Earth system, the interaction between humans and these processes, and the role of science in finding sustainable solutions. Topics include ecological principles, biodiversity, climate change, sustainability, renewable and non-renewable energy, water resources, air and water pollution, and solid waste management. Note: Field trips are required and transportation is not provided.

Course Student Learning Outcomes

1. Apply the process of science to analyze major environmental issues at a variety of scales, identify potential solutions for these issues, and evaluate the viability of these solutions.
2. Analyze and interpret quantitative data and visual representations of data describing an environmental issue.
3. Describe relationships between human actions and environmental issues and predict potential outcomes of these interactions.
4. Analyze and interpret human influences on an ecosystem in the field.

Prerequisites/corequisites/ recommended preparation

There are no prerequisites for this course. However, you will be asked to do a lot of reading and writing. If these are areas you struggle with, consider taking a college-level English course prior to or concurrently with ENVSC-10.

Accessibility

College of the Redwoods is committed to making reasonable accommodations for qualified students with disabilities. If you have a disability or believe you might benefit from disability-related services and accommodations, please contact your instructor or Disability Services and Programs for Students (DSPS). Students may make requests for alternative media by contacting DSPS based on their campus location:

- Eureka: 707-476-4280, student services building, 1st floor
- Del Norte: 707-465-2324, main building near library
- Klamath-Trinity: 530-625-4821 Ext 103

If you are taking online classes DSPS will email approved accommodations for distance education classes to your instructor. In the case of face-to-face instruction, please present your written accommodation request to your instructor at least one week before the needed accommodation so that necessary arrangements can be made. Last minute arrangements or post-test adjustments usually cannot be accommodated.

Student Support

Good information and clear communication about your needs will help you be successful. Please let your instructor know about any specific challenges or technology limitations that might affect your participation in class. College of the Redwoods wants every student to be successful.

Required Material

All material for this course is free and will be available online. To be successful in this course you must:

- Have a strong internet connection
- A computer AND a smartphone (capable of downloading apps, recording video and audio, uploading video and audio)
- Check Canvas frequently, follow all instructions and complete all assignments in weekly modules

Course Organization & Grading Policy

Pay attention to deadlines listed in your Canvas Calendar! NO LATE WORK WILL BE ACCEPTED unless you have made previous arrangements with the instructor.

Assignment Weights:

- Labs (25%) Labs will include independent field trips and virtual field trips. You'll have an activity and/or discussion post to complete for lab each week.
- Discussions (25%) These are my way of both ensuring that you are watching the lectures and engaging in the course content with your classmates. You will have to make an initial post answering a prompt about the week's lectures or homework to "open" the discussion forum and see other students' responses. Once the forum is open, you'll have a response requirement that will be detailed in the description of the discussion forum.
- Individual Research Project (20%) Over the course of the semester, you will research an environmental science topic, write a short literature review, and communicate your findings with an infographic.
- Exams (30%) There will be two midterm exams throughout the semester that cover material from both lecture and lab. There will be one final exam.

Academic dishonesty

In the academic community, the high value placed on truth implies a corresponding intolerance of scholastic dishonesty. In cases involving academic dishonesty, determination of the grade and of the student's status in the course is left primarily to the discretion of the faculty member. In such cases, where the instructor determines that a student has demonstrated academic dishonesty, the student may receive a failing grade for the assignment and/or exam and may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website. Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the College Catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.

Disruptive behavior

Student behavior or speech that disrupts the instructional setting will not be tolerated. Disruptive conduct may include, but is not limited to: unwarranted interruptions; failure to adhere to instructor's directions; vulgar or obscene language; slurs or other forms of intimidation; and physically or verbally abusive behavior. In such cases where the instructor determines that a student has disrupted the educational process, a disruptive student may be temporarily removed from class. In addition, the student may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website. Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the College Catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.

Inclusive Language in the Classroom

College of the Redwoods aspires to create a learning environment in which all people feel comfortable in contributing their perspectives to classroom discussions. It therefore encourages instructors and students to use language that is inclusive and respectful.

Setting Your Preferred Name in Canvas

Students have the ability to have an alternate first name and pronouns to appear in Canvas. Contact Admissions & Records to request a change to your preferred first name and pronoun. Your Preferred Name will only be listed in Canvas. This does not change your legal name in our records. See the Student Information Update form.
