Evaluation & Grading Policy

Grading:

Attendance policy: Attendance is required for success in this course. There will be points given in many class sessions throughout the semester. You need to be present to receive the points. If attendance is not possible due to approved intercollegiate functions or other issues, the student is required to inform the instructor in advance and arrange to make up any missed assignments.

Assignments: Most of the assignments in this class are done while in class. Late assignments will not be accepted, and extra credit is given sparingly.

Tests/Quizzes: Quizzes will often be based on class discussions and lectures and may occur at any time during class or assigned in Canvas. Tests are announced in advance and usually a combination of True/False, Multiple Choice, Fill-in the blank, and short answer questions. If necessary, make-up tests MUST be arranged prior to the test date.

First Aid, CPR, and AED skill assessments are based on the American Red Cross standards.

Your final grade will be based on the total points you have earned throughout the semester. After each assignment is graded, your point value will be posted into the Canvas grade book. I am not a fan of the plus or minus system in grading. Occasionally, I may give a plus, but rarely a minus. Back in the Stone Age, when I was a student, I was not fond of the fact that 80% was below a 3.0 on the grade point average.

90% and above	A
80-89%	B
70-79%	C
60-69%	D
59% and below	F

Academic dishonesty

In the academic community, the high value placed on truth implies a corresponding intolerance of scholastic dishonesty. In cases involving academic dishonesty, determination of the grade and of the student's status in the course is left primarily to the discretion of the faculty member. In such cases, where the instructor determines that a student has demonstrated academic dishonesty, the student may receive a failing grade for the assignment and/or exam and may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website. Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the College Catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.

Disruptive behavior

Student behavior or speech that disrupts the instructional setting will not be tolerated. Disruptive conduct may include but is not limited to unwarranted interruptions; failure to adhere to instructor's directions; vulgar or obscene language; slurs or other forms of intimidation; and physically or verbally abusive behavior. In such cases where the instructor determines that a student has disrupted the educational process, a disruptive student may be temporarily removed from class. In addition, the student may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website. Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the College Catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.
