Communication

The best way to reach me is with a message in Canvas. You can also use my CR email (abigail-queen@redwoods.edu). I will reply as soon as possible, definitely within a few business days.

Participation

If you have excessive absences you may be withdrawn from the class up to the tenth week of the semester. The CR catalog states that absences may be considered excessive when cumulative absences exceed the total number of hours that the class meets during one week. In an online classroom, this means that if you have not submitted any work or contacted me for one week, you may be withdrawn from the class roster. I will send you a message before taking that step. If you miss class, please stay in touch by sending me a quick message.

Late submissions

Assignments may be submitted up to one week after the due date. Points will be deducted for lateness each day. Discussion posts may not be submitted late. No coursework may be submitted after the last day of the semester.

Plagiarism

Academic dishonesty such as plagiarism will result in a score of 0 for that assignment. Repeated offenses will result in serious disciplinary action at the college level. Plagiarism is copying directly from another source, word for word, without using quotes and citing the source. Do not copy. Use your own words. It is a violation of college policy to "recycle" work, for example, submitting a paper for credit in this class that you have submitted or will submit for credit in another class. If you are not sure what counts as plagiarism, please ask me for some guidance.

Detail of coursework

Each week you will need to:

- 1. Complete the reading quiz about the required reading in the textbook
- 2. View the lecture videos and take notes (your notes will be useful on the Midterm and Final Exams)
- 3. Read a primary source text from the HIST-4 Primary Source Anthology or the Kerber textbook
- 4. Post at least three discussion comments

Reading quizzes (16 – 18 points each)

A reading quiz about the required reading in the Kerber textbook is due each Wednesday. You can easily answer the questions as you complete the reading. Reading quizzes are untimed, with unlimited submission attempts. They are worth approximately 16 - 18 points each.

Discussion posts (5 points each)

Post at least three comments in the weekly discussion forum:

- One comment in reply to a "Lecture Video" topic (100 words min.)
- One comment in reply to a "Primary Source" topic (100 words min.)
- One reply to another student (100 words min.)

See Canvas for full instructions and grading rubric. Try to make your first contribution early in the week so that others have a chance to respond. Reply to other students whenever possible – this is a fun part of online learning! Please contribute more than the minimum requirement! Extra comments don't have to be 100 words long or even 100% on topic: you can contribute brief remarks, personal responses, stories and anecdotes, just something like "I agree, that's what I thought too!" or "This reminds me of". The more we share, the more we learn. Thanks in advance for your energy and insights! I really do look forward to hearing your thoughts.

Lecture videos

Each week you will need to view online lecture videos. Viewing the lectures is not a "graded" assignment, but you'll need to do it in order to participate in discussions and succeed on the exams.

One great thing about online learning is that we can go to class at home in our pajamas at 3 AM if we want to. Or you can listen to a lecture on your phone as you take a walk or do chores, and then re-listen to refresh your memory before a test. You can pause, fast-forward, and rewind – it's pretty convenient! But it also requires self-discipline. Try not to fall behind.

Source Analysis Paper (80 points)

Choose a primary source relevant to the history of Western Civilization to c. 100 CE. Write approximately 800 words using the source as a window onto the past: discuss how the source reflects, enriches, and/or challenges what we know about history. Use your knowledge of its historical context (such as the political, economic, cultural etc. background) to explain what the source meant to people in its own day, and what it can tell us about their world.

Find full instructions, "Source Analysis Workshop" slides, samples, and grading rubric on Canvas. I am happy to give you feedback on rough draft material if you send it to me well ahead of the due date.

Research Paper (150 points)

Write approximately 2,000 words exploring a thesis of your choice relevant to the history of Western Civilization up to the Reformation. Cite at least 1 reliable primary source and at least 2 reliable secondary sources. List sources in a bibliography at the end of the paper.

A Research Paper Workshop video and quiz will help you get started on this assignment. Find full instructions, sample papers, and a detailed grading rubric on Canvas. I am happy to give you feedback on rough draft material if you send it to me well ahead of the due date.

Midterm and Final Exams (150 points each)

The midterm and final exams will test your knowledge of material from lecture and the textbook. Each exam has two parts (75 points each): a timed multiple choice section and an untimed essay. The exams are open resource: you may refer to your lecture notes (your most valuable resource), your book, or the internet.

Sample questions will be available to help you prepare for each exam.

No late submissions – NO exceptions. Each test will be open for a whole week, so you have plenty of time. Do not wait until an hour before the deadline to begin the test.

Evaluation & Grading Policy

Grades are calculated on a simple point basis. Your course grade will be calculated as a percentage of (points you earned) out of (the total points possible) and converted to a letter grade based on the following scale. No assignments are weighted.

- B+ 88-89%

- B- 80-82
- C+ 78-80%

Academic dishonesty

In the academic community, the high value placed on truth implies a corresponding intolerance of scholastic dishonesty. In cases involving academic dishonesty, determination of the grade and of the student's status in the course is left primarily to the discretion of the faculty member. In such cases, where the instructor determines that a student has demonstrated academic dishonesty, the student may receive a failing grade for the assignment and/or exam and may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website. Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the College Catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.

Disruptive behavior

Student behavior or speech that disrupts the instructional setting will not be tolerated. Disruptive conduct may include, but is not limited to: unwarranted interruptions; failure to adhere to instructor's directions; vulgar or obscene language; slurs or other forms of intimidation; and physically or verbally abusive behavior. In such cases where the instructor determines that a student has disrupted the educational process, a disruptive student may be temporarily removed from class. In addition, the student may be reported to the Chief Student Services Officer or designee. The Student Code of Conduct (AP 5500) is available on the College of the Redwoods website. Additional information about the rights and responsibilities of students, Board policies, and administrative procedures is located in the College Catalog and on the College of the Redwoods website.

Inclusive Language in the Classroom

College of the Redwoods aspires to create a learning environment in which all people feel comfortable in contributing their perspectives to classroom discussions. It therefore encourages instructors and students to use language that is inclusive and respectful.
